Kort projektbeskrivelse som forelægges udvalget uredigeret
The Blitz duo consists of Lorenzo Colocci on flute and Francesco Colocci on guitar and voice. They have been playing together since childhood, developing a repertoire of South American music, from samba to tango via bossanova. They want to create a magical musical moment in which the audience can get to know music by South American composers and be enveloped by the rhythm and energy of it. The duo's aim is to bring this music to children and families in some of the city's playgrounds. The aim is to engage young spectators in a concert of high musical quality that will stimulate listening, movement and singing. The repertoire will include musical activities for children and families through the use of voice and body, integrating music and dance. Bringing music to playgrounds aims to enable people who do not usually attend concert halls to enjoy and benefit from a musical event. It aims to educate children about listening acoustic music and to create a pleasant environment and a sense of community through music. The intention is to enhance acoustic music and culturally enrich the city and its citizens.
