Kort projektbeskrivelse som forelægges udvalget uredigeret
Solos is a concert that will present solo pieces by artists who define themselves as women, non-binary or trans-persons, and the world premiere of Sandras Boss Wearing Sound. The writing process of Wearing Sound (a piece for a performer and a customized suit played as an instrument) was founded by Statens Kunstfond and will be performed by Irene Bianco. Irene, herself percussionist of Damkapellet, invited other members of the ensemble to join the concert. In this special occasion, the members will be playing as soloists, presenting a repertoire hardly performed in standard concerts of classical music as well as own compositions.

Formidling af projektet
The concert presents innovative new music repertoire and a lot of variety in the instrumentation. For this reason, the audience will easily come from different backgrounds like classical music, electronics, performance art and also design and fashion. Damkapellet is already an established ensemble that had sold-out concerts last season. The location, central and easy to reach, (Literaturhaus) is a well-known place in the Copenhagen underground artist scene as well as in the classical one and presents in his calendar events of different genres. In this way it will be easier to reach new audience and ages. There will be promotion in social networks, posters at bars and cafes in Nørrebro, surroundings and music school. A promo video of the concert will be shoot and used as advertisement on-line.
