

To whom it may concern

February 25th 2025, Mölndal SWEDEN

The Curious Chamber Players, since its establishment in 2003, have been collaborating with composers, festivals, concert organisers, and institutions all over the world. With experimentation as the foundation of the ensemble's concept, We have been significantly influenced by the forefront of Danish contemporary music, which has resulted in our many performances of Danish music previously.

In recent years, we have come across the works of composer Mads Emil Dreyer, and we are convinced that collaborating with Dreyer and engaging with his music will enhance our journey into the next phase of our sonic experimental exploration and the development of the ensemble.

Culturally, we are fascinated by the prospect of enhancing the contemporary music scenes in Sweden and Denmark, and we aspire to serve as the cultural bridge that links the two neighbouring nations for a richer mutual international exchange.

All the best wishes,

Rei Munakata
