About the Festival

Mr Woofmantic Games Festival

We are organizing a 1-day event with game showcases, art exhibition, and ending with a concert, to gather game developers, enthusiasts and fans, for the debut of Mr Woofmantic's new band.

(19:00) (Opening act)

20:00 Mr Woofmantic performance

21:00 Mingling (DJ / VJ / silent disco / afterparty)

23:00 Event is over

Program

Our event is centered around: the games showcase, art exhibition, art market and finally the concert. It is an opportunity to mingle and network with game developers and creative people across industries, to get inspired and strengthen the community.

Stage Performance

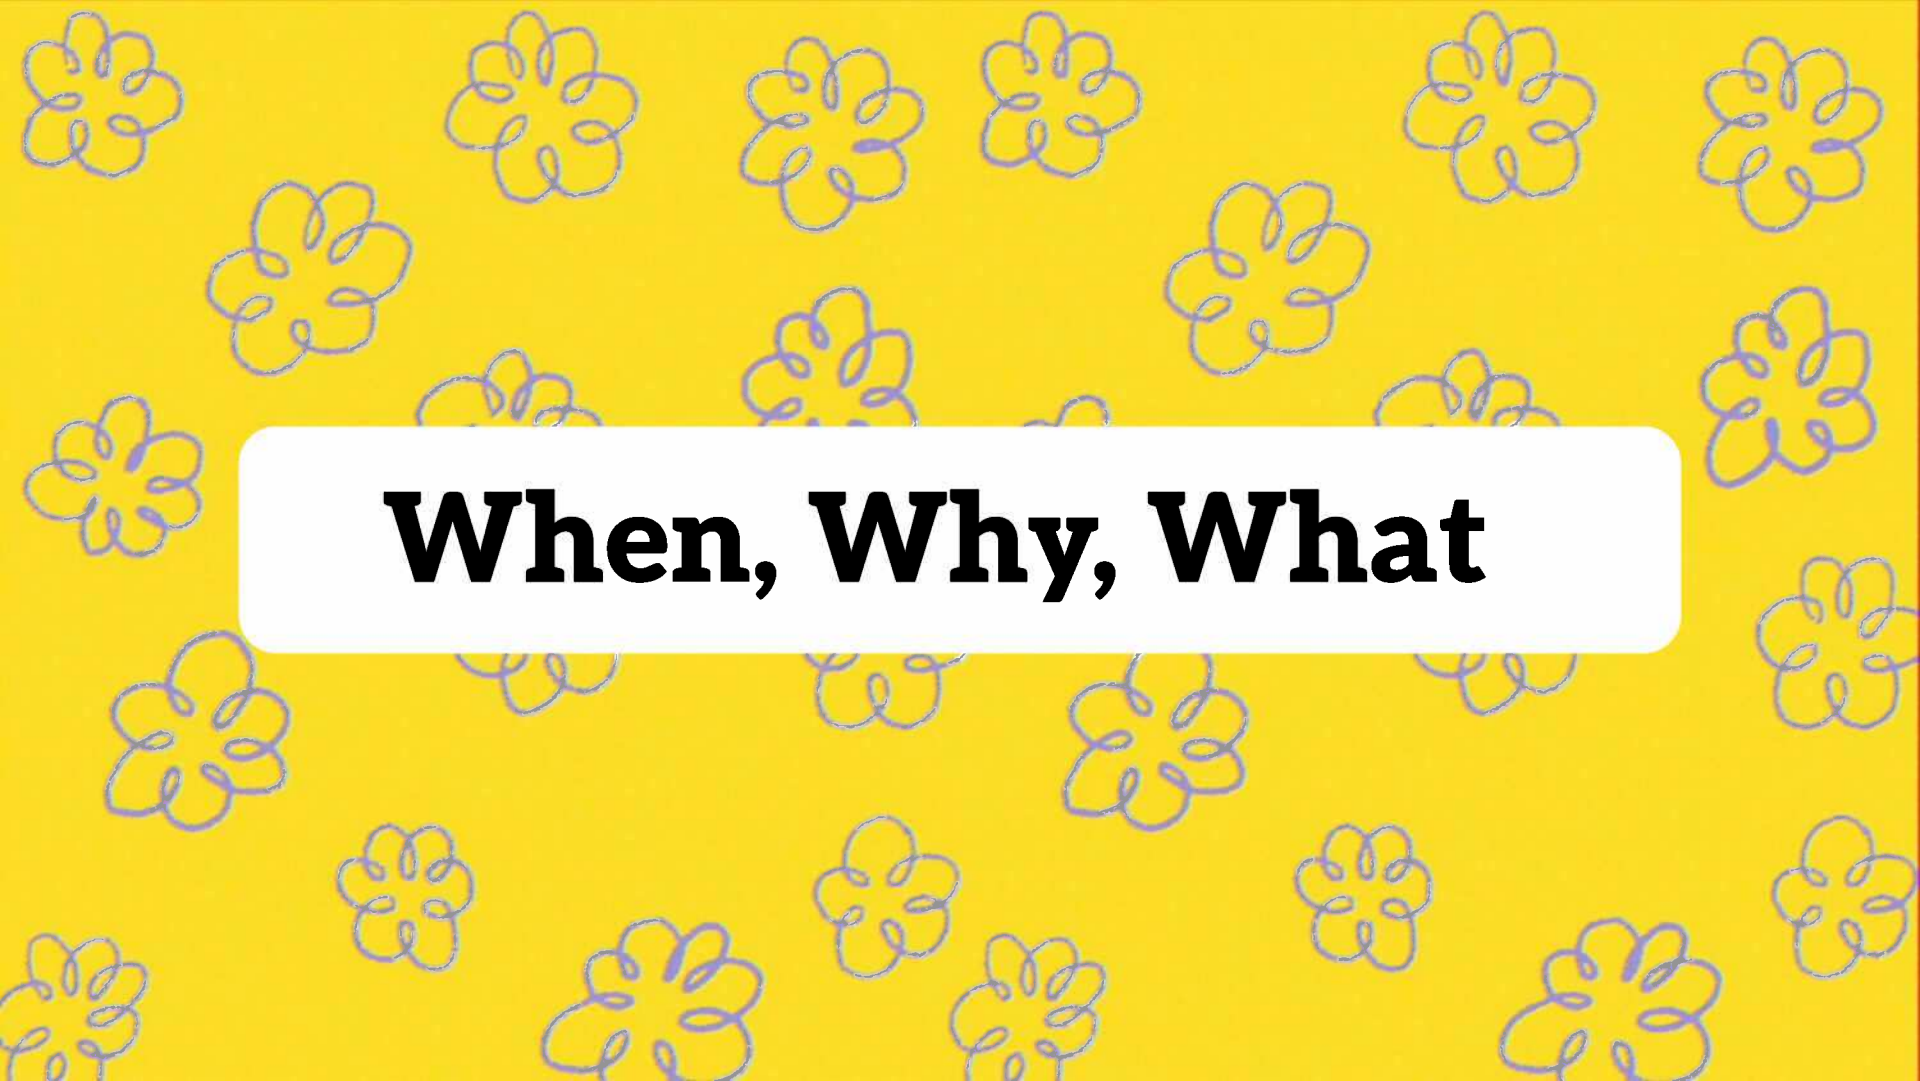

We will have the Mr Woofmantic band play the main concert, and we are looking into having an opening act as well (music / comedy / circus performance or the like).

The Mr Woofmantic Band

Mr Woofmantic plays concerts inside videogames, as well as for live human audiences. This will be the first public performance by the Mr Woofmantic Band with Mr Woofmantic on piano & Simone de Bovwarf on bass.

When, Why, What

When? Why in November?

We believe November is a good opportunity for a creative, indie-focused event, especially for the people in Denmark and Nordic countries, because we noticed a gap in games-related events in the late part of the year in Northern Europe. Most of the regular big events happening in this region are happening in the spring and summer.

Regular regional game events

- ~April - Nordic Game Jam
- ~May - Nordic Game Conference
- ~Feb - Copenhagen Games Week
- ~May - A MAZE. / Berlin
- ~August - Gamescom, Devcom, Cologne

Why

The event is meant as a cross-media creative gathering to foster community and build network, while sending a positive, playful message about ecology & animal welfare*. The event will also be a platform for people to showcase and sell their creative works.

Branding & Universe

We chose the name of the festival Mr Woofmantic Games Festival in order to set a tone and a focus for the type of experience one can expect: a playful, musical, experimental cross-media celebration of games as an artform.

*ecology & animal welfare

Mr Woofmantic is thematically related to dogs and ecology so we think it is relevant to invite people from these fields and spread awareness about their work

What we can offer

We expect an audience of ~100 game developers and creative industry people, based on the size of similar events in Copenhagen, such as SpilBar, Dev>Test>Repeat, other jams and concerts.

We will advertise and share the event online, so we also expect to reach several thousands of people via social media and press.

We have experience in co-organizing concerts and game industry events (A MAZE. / Berlin, Nordic Game Jam, various concerts and games meetups) and we can promise professionalism and clear, punctual communication.

Safety & Security

Security of the equipment

We will offer a secure place/room to store equipment for the exhibitors when not in use, as well as have security on the premises to reduce the risk for mishaps.

We will regulate the entrance to the venue via tickets.

Safety of the participants

To ensure the safety and wellbeing of the participants, we will have a zero-tolerance, harassment-free, discrimination-free safer spaces policy and Code of Conduct. A reporting system will be used as a deterrent and a way to document and resolve unwanted events.
