Emne: [EKSTERN] To Mr Lohmann - Sølvgade between Fredensbro and Øster Farimagsgade

Dear Mr Lohmann,

I live on Sølvgade, on the stretch between Fredensbro and Øster Farimagsgade, and I recently came across the Indre By Lokaludvalg's work on improving Sølvgade between Fredensbro and Sølvtorvet.

As a resident, my main concern isn't traffic volume as such, but a few specific safety issues on this first stretch of Sølvgade.

The sidewalks are quite narrow and are often further obstructed by parked bicycles. This regularly pushes pedestrians towards, or into, the cycle lane, where cyclists can be travelling at considerable speed.

I also regularly notice cars accelerating quite hard along this stretch, apparently trying to catch the next green light. As a result, the street can feel considerably less safe than the overall traffic volume might suggest.

A secondary issue is the vibration caused by buses passing through the street, although I have not looked into this in detail yet.

I saw that the Lokaludvalg has proposed a broader analysis of Sølvgade and Webersgade, including traffic calming and the possibility of widening the sidewalks. I would therefore be very interested to understand where this initiative currently stands and whether there is anything residents can do to help support the work or provide useful input.

Best regards,
