Kort projektbeskrivelse som forelægges udvalget uredigeret
Loiteretto is a 10 hour opera conceived, written, composed and performed by 5 artists and composers and a group of local actors and existing materials from 4 additional artists/composers. The Opera is public and free entry. Loitering as in the opposite of expectation; young people hanging around waiting for a better world that never will come. Artists hanging around (producing whatever they can meanwhile) hoping for some compensation (forget recognition). Foreigners hanging around hoping to be integrated (in their own lifetime at least). In a collaboration with the organisations Trampoline House, that works with refugees and non ethnic Danes, and students from FLUK (Fyens laboratoire for ung kunst), we will be working with a mix of young people from around Denmark that will participate in the performance. The opera will take place in the backyard behind Vermilion Sands. There is an amphitheatre with stairs for seating, leading down to a stage area. It will take place during the busy weekend when there are several art fairs and many visitors in Copenhagen.
